176 Miners Reported Entombed In Wyoming

SENATOR CURTIS DENIES STATEMENT OF BENNETT THAT HE IS "PRINCIPAL"

Committee Despairs of Reconciling Two Witnesses Who Swear To Exactly Opposites.

WAS TENSE SESSION

By KENNETH CLARK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, March 8. (INS.)—Dis-
turbingly conflicting stories were given
today by two witnesses—Senator
Charles Curtis, of Kansas, Republican
whip of the Senate, and Ira E. Bennett, chief editorial writer of the Washington Post. Both were under oath, and the "short and ugly word"
frequently trembled unspoken on the
lips of both during a lively session of
the committee.

Curtis staunchly denied he was "the principal" referred to in Bennett's telegram to E. B. McLean, the telegram
that accused McLean "the principal"
had said there would be no rocking of
the boat and no cabinet resignations
as a result of the oil mess.

Bennett said he had consulted Curtis about the policy of the Post in printing news of the oil investigation.
—Curtis denied it.

Bennett and Curtis told him that he (Curtis) had advised President Cool-
idge to "get rid of Daugherty"—Curtis denied it.

Bennett said he had several conversations with Curtis about the political aspects of the investigation—Curtis
denied it.

Bennett and he saw Curtis just before he sent the famous "Principal"
telegram to McLean—Curtis denied it.
All of the testimony was under
oath, and the situation became exceedingly tense at times during the session.

At last the committee, apparently
despairing of ever reconciling the directly conflicting stories, dismissed
them both and recalled John F. Major,
McLean's confidential representative
to the witness stand for more questioning about code telegrams.

Washington, March 8.—Senator
Curtis, Republican, of Kansas, took
the stand in the Senate's oil investigation today and denied under oath
that he was the "Principal" in the telegram which Ira E. Bennett sent to
E. B. McLean at Palm Beach on Jan. 27.

It was this telegram, which quoted
"the Principal" as assuring McLean
there would be "no rocking the boat
and no resignations" as a result of
the oil disclosures. Democratic Senators have charged that the "Principle" was President Coolidge.

Bennett said yesterday under oath
"The Principal" was Senator Curtis.
Curtis said he preferred that the committee question him but at Senator Walsh's suggestion made a short
statement.

"About the second or third of January, Bennett and John F. Major (Mc-Lean's Secretary) called at my office.
They said they came in the interest
of McLean who was ill at Palm Beach
and desired to be relieved from testifying.

"Bennett told me McLean's boy had
been operated on.

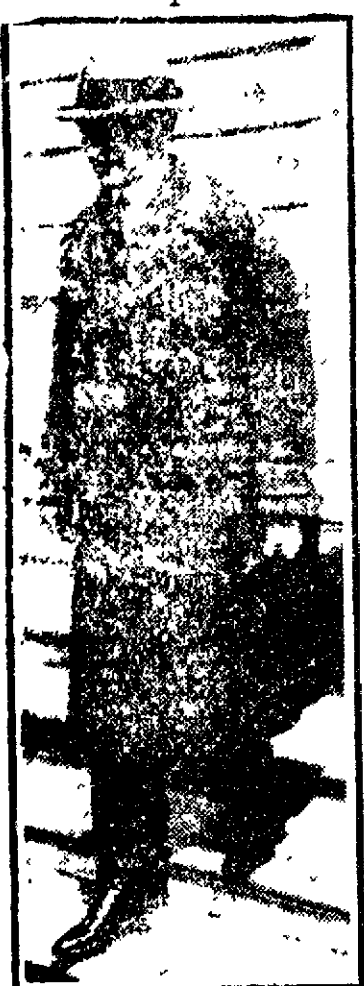

"They asked me to see Senator
Walsh and ascertain if the committee
would take a statement. I suggested they see Senators Underwood and
Robinson. I might have said to see
Senator Lenroot.

"I don't remember seeing Bennett
again until Senator Norris made his speech (Jan. 30).—In that speech he
made some reference to McLean's
family. I asked Senator Norris to withdraw the remarks. He said he would.

"I told Bennett Senator Norris
would withdraw his remarks, and suggested he have McLean wire thanks
to Senator Borah, Norris and Walsh.

Believe His Plane Has
Been Forced Down On Mountains Between
Bellefonte-Cleveland.

PLANES SEARCHING

Aviator Pearson, one of the government mail plane pilots, engaged in
the flying mail service between Bellefonte and Cleveland, is lost "somewhere" north of Clearfield and grave
fears for his life are entertained by
his fellows in the service.

Pearson left Bellefonte at 2:30 yesterday afternoon on his daily schedule and it is reported was seen in the vicinity of Winburne about 3 o'clock. As
will be remembered, it was storming
here practically all afternoon and a terrific March blizzard hit this section between 3 and 4 o'clock, the wind
blowing a gale, accompanied by squal
after squal of snow, which made travel
even on the roads impossible at
times.

Report from DuBois is to the effect
that a plane was seen circling in the
air by residents of the Third Ward
section of the city about 4 o'clock,
while a similar story comes from Brookville, with the further information that after circling the town several times the plane headed north.
This was undoubtedly the same plane.

Pearson failed to report at any point last night nor has the headquarters at Bellefonte been able to get
any authentic information concerning
him up to this time, although they
have kept the telephone wires busy
all day long seeking news of Pearson.

We were informed by the mail station at Bellefonte at 3 o'clock this afternoon that persons near Snow Shoe
report they heard a plane in the air
near that place about 5:15 o'clock last
evening and it is feared that Pearson
got bewildered in the storm and turning back attempted to regain the be-
at Bellefonte; and was either forced to
land or the plane crashed with him
somewhere in the mountains north of Clearfield.

The local Bell telephone exchange,
which has kept up a constant query
all day, says that a Woodland plane
after they heard a plane over
that section as late as 7:15 last evening but it is likely imagination has
much to do with these stories.

Although Blast Let Go
at 9 a. m. No Word Has
Been Received from the Interior Up to Noon.

MOUTH IS JAMMED

Castle Gate, Utah, March 8. (INS.)—
A terrific explosion occurred today
in Mine No. 2 of the Utah Fuel Company here.

Mine officials said the blast came
just after 9 o'clock.

No word from the interior of the
mine had been received up to noon.

Approximately 175 miners entered
the underground workings at 7 o'clock
this morning.

Rescue work was under way within
thirty minutes after the explosion occurred, but the work was badly hampered by lack of equipment in Castle
Gate and the fact that the mouth of the mine was jammed with debris that
had been buried by the force of the blast.

Mine rescue crews at Clear Creek,
Winter Quarters, and Pinyon, Utah, in
what is known as the Scofield field,
were immediately ordered to the scene
of the accident, and it was expected
they would reach here shortly after 1
o'clock.

A crew with masks and oxygen paraphernalia was reported on its way
here from Hiawatha, Utah.

Crowds of weeping women and children gathered around the mouth of
the stricken mine shortly after the explosion and it was necessary to
keep many of the hysterical women
from entering the tunnel in an effort
to rescue the entombed men.

Salt Lake City, Utah, March 8.
(INS.)—Officials of the Utah Fuel
Company here after receiving reports
from the mine this afternoon expressed fears that 175 men believed trapped
in the Castle Gate mine No. 2,
would perish. They had no word of any workers making their way to safety.

MISSOURI DELEGATES
WILL BE UNINSTRUCTED

St. Louis, March 8. (INS.)—Most of the delegates chosen to the Township
and ward meetings will go to the Democratic State Convention in the Springfield April 15, uninstructed, although some of the delegates selected
are known to be "hostile" to United States Senator James A. Reed, it was reported in reports here today.

Find Jobs for Many Veterans.
A total of 4,194 jobs were found for veterans in Kansas City, Mo., by the
employment committee of the American Legion, according to a recent report submitted to the organization. At least 400 of the men thus employed
are in permanent positions as a result
of the Legion's efforts in placement.
According to the figures nearly 1,000
of the positions found for the former
service men were permanent positions,
the remainder representing the short-
time jobs which are usually afforded
veterans of more or less transient
character. These jobs, committee
members declare, have permitted many
men to retain their self-respect, because the work tested their requests
for charity or relief.

Mrs. R. J. Henderson, of Pittsburgh
new Arline Goodlander is spending the week end with her aunt Mrs. D. B.
Guppy of East Market street.

Mrs. J. N. Sault, of W. 5th avenue fell last evening on the pavement and broke her arm.

Mrs. Paul Culver and son Paul Jr., are visiting Mrs. Culver's parents,
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pickles of Walnut street.

The air service is much concerned
over Pearson's disappearance, and
will make every effort to locate him.
If anyone has any information concerning the lost plane they will consider a favor by calling Bellefonte air
station or The Progress.

DENBY REITERATES BELIEF IN LEASES BEING O.K. FOR U.S.

Repudiates Report They
Were Made Without
Competitive Bidding;
Got High Royalties.

STATES HIS CASE

Washington, March 8. (INS.)—On
the eve of his retirement to private
life, Secretary of the Navy Denby today again came to the defense of the
leasing of the naval oil reserves and
with H. F. Sinclair and E. L. Doheny
are beneficial to the government.

Denby's position was made known
in a letter addressed to Representative Britten, Republican of Illinois,
responding to a House resolution requesting certain information concerning the leases.

Denby repudiated reports that the
leases were made without competitive
bidding and declared that as a result
of the leasing of Teapot Dome, the Government in 1923 received 41 cents
per barrel more for royalty oil than
the selling price of all other producers
in the Salt Creek field adjoining the Wyoming reserve.

Had the production of Teapot
reached even the minimum anticipated
at the time of the lease, the amount
the navy would have received on its
royalty oil above the daily market
price would have been more than $16,
000,000, and would have exceeded by
many millions of dollars all of the
cash benefits that could have been
realized from the sale of Government leases in the Salt
Creek field, Denby declared.

Denby justified the leasing under
the express provisions of act of June 4, 1920, which was adopted upon the recommendation of ex-Secretary of the Navy Daniels, and declared that it has been the practice for many
years for one executive department to perform the services for another. This work is expressly provided for in the act of May 21, 1920. The navy, he said, has frequently performed services for the War and Treasury Departments.

Denby's letter answered 28 specific
questions asked him by the resolution
introduced by Representative Britten,
Republican, of Illinois, who has mainly defended the leases.

Replying to a question whether Daniels had approved leases of certain portions of naval reserves "without public advertisements," Denby
said:

"Under date of August 21, 1920, the
then Secretary of the Navy (Daniels),
informed the then Secretary of the Interior (Payne) that the lease to the Boston-Pacific Oil Company covering
the drilling of five new wells on section 32 of naval reserve No. 2, (Buena Vista, Calif.) was satisfactory to the Navy Department.

"The correspondence shows that the terms of this lease were agreed upon
in conference between representatives
of the oil company and representatives of the Navy Department and
such new drilling was considered necessary because of drainage by owners
in contiguous territory."

Commenting on Denby's letter,
Britten, in a statement, said:

"It is quite evident that the oil
leases were drawn in the very best interests of the Navy and that the Government was protected in every possible manner."

MONDAY NIGHT

At the regular meeting of the local
American Legion to be held on Monday evening it is expected that the matter of a new and permanent home
will be the principal item of business
and all members are requested to be there to participate in the discussion and vote on the actions to be taken.

Mrs. Robert McBlain and Orrin Starn were called to Altona yesterday by the serious illness of their sister, Mrs. A. H. Good.

School ground, fell and fractured both bones in the left thumb near the wrist. She is the 9-year old daughter of Orval Fulton, formerly of Clearfield, now of Buffalo, N. Y.

Arrest Man Accused Of Participating In The Bakertown Bank Holdup

Pittsburgh, March 8. (INS.)—William Lebre, alias Lebre, of Central City, Somerset County, Pa., was taken to Cambria county today where
he is accused of being one of the alleged hold-up men who attempted to
rob the First National Bank at Baker-
town, Pa., last November.

Local detectives captured Lebre,
after searching for him for several months, late yesterday, and locked
him up as a suspicious person.

The prisoner was one of a gang
of safe crackers and hold-up men
who operated extensively in Western Pennsylvania according to a private detective agency.

DEATH TAKES PAT MORAN, MAKER OF LEAGUE PITCHERS

I. N. S. Sports Editor

New York, March 8.—Death the
inevitable of all things mortal, sat in
the game down at Orlando, Fla., yesterday and dealt the Cincinnati Reds
a pair of deuces from a marked deck.
Reaching out an icy hand, it claimed
the stakes in the person of Patrick
Joseph Moran, famous manager, and
today baseball men the country over
are speculating as to just how far
reaching will be the effect on the impending national League race.

It may be much or little, depending
on how well Jack Hendricks Moran's
successor can carry on where another
man gone wrong. He never got a chance in St. Louis and was shipped
back to the American Association
with scant farewell.

He knows baseball and can handle
men. The Reds could have fared further and fared worse—but Moran
was Moran.

The Cincinnati Reds are his ball
club, conceived by him, weaned from
mediocrity and reared to full growth.
There is hardly a man on the ball
club who does not owe his present
status in baseball to Pat Moran. They are the product of his system and
they know that the name of Pat
Moran stood for success.

He had an almost magic ability to make ball players play better than
they knew how, as the saying goes, a
trick of getting better than the best
out of a man.

He did this in bringing the only
pennant to Philadelphia in 1915, winning with two pitchers, a catcher and
a shortstop. It was the same with
the Reds in 1919 who played above
and beyond the collective head in win-

WINTER PAYS US AN UNEXPECTED VISIT, BRINGING ALL ITS BAGS AND BAGGAGE

Pittsburgh, March 8. (INS.)—With
the thermometer hovering around 18
late call to Western Pennsylvania,
bringing with him all his parapher-
nalia that he uses in mid-winter.

Beginning at 2 o'clock yesterday
afternoon a 44 mile an hour wind
came out of nowhere and accompanied by a small sized blizzard
drove the mercury down seven degrees in one hour.

The wind abated somewhat during
the night but it became colder.

Fair and colder is predicted for today and Sunday.

Hon. Singleton Bell To Be Given Honorary Membership In S. of I.

Honorary membership in the Sons
of Italy will be conferred on Hon.
Singleton Bell at a special session of the local lodge Due Palme of the order to be held at the Hotel Dime-
ling on Sunday afternoon, March 9th,
at 2 o'clock. The initiatory ceremonies will be in charge of the State
officers of the Sons of Italy and will
be witnessed by a number of the local
friends of Judge Bell and the local lodge who are not affiliated there-
with.

The Sons of Italy is an organization made up of, as the name implies, men of Italian nativity or descendant who are now residents of this country. Its mission is for the betterment and uplift of its membership
and the teaching of American principles to those of Italian birth coming to this country. The organization
has a membership of more than 125,000 in Pennsylvania.

Judge Bell, who is on very friendly
personal relations with a number of the State Officers and who because
familiar with the good work of the Sons of Italy during the World War
when their loyalty to America and
her institutions stood out in marked
contrast to that of other racial groups
in this country, has taken a great
personal interest in the organization
and assisted them in their good work
from time to time as opportunity presented itself, and it was these many good offices of Judge Bell, which
moved the recent State convention at DuBois to confer honorary membership upon Judge Bell, the movement
for such honor being headed by State
President Joseph Di Silvestre, of

TRIPLE TIE NOW EXISTS IN BASKET BALL LEAGUE RACE

Clearfield, DuBois and
Neck For The League
Pennant.

MUST PLAY OFF TIE

This branch of the High School Basketball League ends its season with a triple tie, the teams representing Clearfield, DuBois and Punxsy
occupying the top rung of the ladder,
each eager and willing to battle to a finish for the honor of representing
the section at the inter-sectional games
at Grove City, where the championship team will be picked.

This triple tie has long been expected as the opening games dis-
closed the fact that the three teams
mentioned were not only much stronger
than Brookville and New Bethlehem, but were so evenly matched that
the final result at the end of the season would be as we find it this morning.

In the final games last evening
Clearfield defeated New Bethlehem 34
to 18 the game being played at New Bethlehem, while Punxsy took Brookville into camp on the Punxsy floor by
a 34-9 score.

Representatives of the three schools
gathered at the DuBois High School
at one o'clock this afternoon to draw
up the plans for the play-off, which
will undoubtedly be played on Monday evening, March 10th, the place not definitely known as yet. The sectional games at Grove City are played the
last part of next week, and it will
be necessary for the local league
games to be played early in the week,
that the winning team may be prepared for the championship games.

At the end of the regular league
season the standing of the teams is:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Clearfield	6	2	.750
Punxsy	6	2	.750
DuBois	6	2	.750
Brookville	2	6	.250

Small Cash Payments And Paid Up Insurance Plans Form Approved

Washington, March 8. (INS.)— Small cash payments and paid up insurance were finally decided upon today by the House ways and means committee as the basis of compen-

The new two-fold plan, as forecast
early this week by International News Service, was adopted in the committee
by a vote of 13 to 12.

Clinton, Pa., Farmer, 90, Kicked to Death by Mule; Fell Over A Feed Box

Clinton, Pa., March 8. (INS.)—Abraham Lasso, 90, died at his home
here today as the result of injuries
received last Monday when he was kicked by a mule.

Lasso, before retiring last Monday
night, made the rounds of his property to see if everything was in order.
As he passed the stall occupied by a mule the aged man was felled by the
lid of the feed box falling on him. As he lay on the floor of the stall the
mule kicked him several times in the head and side.

"NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH"

A delightful entertainment was
given on Tuesday by the pupils of the Cooper Township High School. They
presented the play "Nothing but the Truth" in exceptionally fine style.
They had worked hard and their efforts were crowned with success.
The acting was clever and the plots
very well taken. The entire entertainment was very enjoyable. The
proceeds which amounted to over $1000 clear is for the blind fund.

GEORGE D. HESS

George D. Hess, of Cooper Township, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Blanche Williams at Kylerstown, Pa., Feb. 18th, 1924 at the ripe old age of 90 years, 2 months and 21 days. Although a native of Centre County, having been born at Aaronsburg, Nov. 24, 1833, the son of Benjamin and Mary Hess, he came to this county as a small boy and became a factor in its development. At a very early age, he learned the trade of carpenter and followed that calling for many years. On December 30, 1858, he married Amanda Daugherty to which union nine children were born, one of whom survive Albert E. Hess, the well known construction carpenter Mrs. J. W. Moore, of San Diego, Cal.; Mr. T. A. Leonard, of Pullman, Wash.; M. L. Lido Hoover, of Altoona, Pa., and Mrs. Blanche Williams of Kylerstown, Pa.

For the past thirty years, Mr. Hess has been an invalid, his infirmities resulting from rheumatism. Though his sufferings were intense and of long duration he never lost faith in the wisdom of his Creator whom he served. The writer has been intimate with Mr. Hess for the last 25 years and never once heard him use a profane word. A Methodist in the true sense of the word and a Republican in political belief he was steadfast and adamant in his refusal to espouse any other doctrine in veritable Rock of Gibraltar of faith and as unshakable as the laws of the Medes and the Persians.

For the past eight years he made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Williams, who faithfully and lovingly looked after his many wants.

He was laid to rest Thursday, February 21st, 1924 in Sylvan Grove cemetery.

FUNERAL OF ANTONIO BRUGLIA

The funeral of Antonio Bruglia, held from St. Francis church Thursday morning, was one of the largest funerals ever seen in Clearfield. The deceased was a respected citizen of the fourth ward for many years, earning the respect of his neighbors by his industrious, up-right life. He was prominently identified with the local branch of Italy lodge and the turn out of neighbors and members of this order attested to the high standing of Mr. Bruglia in this community.

The funeral cortege which was made up of about seventy-five automobiles, was headed by the Clearfield Italian Band and the members of Due Palmo Lodge, 8 of L. Interment was made in Calvary cemetery.

The deceased is survived by a widow and four children.

LIVE STOCK

Problem Sheets to Aid Feeders of Live Stock

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

In connection with a plan for the better feeding of live stock, conducted by various states and the United States Department of Agriculture, the department is now distributing to county agents and extension workers of co-operating states copies of the new feeding problem sheets which is the basis of the work. This sheet, attractively printed in red and black, has been designed for the convenience of live stock feeders who desire expert assistance in feeding problems. It provides for a brief outline of the problem and other information related to it, including what the farmer has already done to solve this problem. There is a space for comments and recommendations of the county agent. The information desired is then furnished by the state agricultural college, to which the blank is sent, or, at the option of the state extension director, by the United States Department of Agriculture. The state will in most cases answer questions relating to conditions in the state, while the department will give information on problems of a more general character or those on which the department is conducting special investigations.

The better feeding of live stock service has been developed in response to a popular demand, and it is believed, will not only facilitate correspondence on feeding questions, but will make possible more explicit responses.

MRS. EDWARD HANEY DIES

Mrs. Edward Haney, a respected resident of Boggs township, died at her home at Bethlehem about 5 o'clock this morning after a brief illness. The deceased is survived by her husband and six children. Funeral notice later.

BABY DIES FROM EATING PINK LAXATIVE PILLS

Sara Blanche Smouse, 20-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen A. Smouse, of Cloe, died yesterday afternoon as the result, it is said, of eating a large quantity of pink laxative pills. How the little one secured the pills is not definitely known.

She was a pretty, fat healthy baby whose loss is keenly felt by neighbors and in the Smouse home. She leaves, besides her parents, a sister and a brother.

WOODLAND BOY DIES AT HOSPITAL

Archey Peters, the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Roy Peters of Woodland, died at the Clearfield hospital at 8:30 o'clock last evening of heart trouble with which he had been afflicted for a long time.

He is survived by his parents and eleven brothers and sisters, Archie's death being the first break in the family circle.

With each reply to feeding problems answered by the department there goes a return post card on which a person given information is asked to report the results obtained. Replies received thus far have indicated either entire success or improvement. The follow-up system thus leaves nothing to chance and places the future development of the service on a substantial basis.

The department is already analyzing the various problems submitted and will issue from time to time statements on results.

Heavy Corn Ration May Cause Death of Lambs

There are large numbers of lambs in the cornfields of northern Colorado. Most of these lambs have been on the corn for three or four weeks. They have stripped the plants of leaves and husks and are eating the corn grain in some instances with very little forage available to lighten the ration. Unless the lambs are supplied with plenty of forage and arrangements made so they will consume it, there is danger from now on of heavy death losses, due to a too heavy corn feed.

Lambs are being held in the pens and fed alfalfa until noon, then turned on the corn until evening with good success. They are herded in the pens over night and held there until the following noon on hay. This causes them to take up a good deal of alfalfa before going on the corn and so far death losses of these lambs have been negligible.

The lambs need alfalfa or other protein forage for protection against too much grain, and should be made to take it in sufficient quantities to regulate the grain they consume. If a protein hay is not available and it is necessary to feed them on prairie hay or straw about 1-10 lb. a pound of linseed meal or cottonseed meal should make a good substitute.

In experiments with lambs in the cornfields salt has been used satisfactorily as a mineral supplement.—E. J. Maryland, Colorado State Experiment Station

Many Stock Owners Get Better-Sires Diplomas

Wide distribution of sign "Pure Bred Sires Exclusively Used on This Farm" is now being made by the United States Department of Agriculture in co-operating states in connection with their "Better Sires—Better Stock" activities. Many of the signs are being distributed to persons who already have enrolled in the organized plan for live stock improvement through better sires, but requests are also being received from persons who have seen the sign and wish to qualify for it.

IMPROVING NICELY FOLLOWING OPERATION

Editor John E. Short of the Republican, was advised by long distance phone last evening that his son Frank W. Short, budget clerk to Mayor Kendrick of Philadelphia, had passed most successfully through an operation at Jefferson Hospital yesterday afternoon. The operation was performed by Drs. Rugh and Deavers. Mr. Short has been suffering severely for almost two years from an affection of the spine, due to an injury received in a fall. His physicians were baffled for a time and were not able to correctly diagnose the trouble until a fortunate bump in an automobile during the last Mayoralty campaign served to rupture a pus sack at the seat of the infection and allowed the X-ray to detect the actual difficulty, which was a splinted vertebrae at the extreme end of the backbone.

A splinter of bone was found to be pressing upon a nerve and when this pressure was removed great improvement was almost instantly noted. The patient was soon able to leave the hospital, but several weeks ago the old trouble began to return and yesterday's operation was decided upon. When the operation was performed Dr. Rugh found just what he had anticipated. The backbone had been splinted and a cartilaginous growth forming had exerted pressure on the adjoining nerves, was responsible for all of Mr. Short's difficulties. The bone splinters and the growth were removed and instant relief afforded, which the doctors say will be permanent and that after a few weeks in the hospital Frank will again be able to take up his duties, which will indeed be good news to his local friends.

According to department records more than 125,000 live stock owners in the country are now known to be using pure bred sires for all classes of live stock kept. These persons have agreed also to follow methods leading to further improvement.

PHONE CONVERSATION IS "BRUTALITY"

Philadelphia, March 8 (INS).—J. Chandler Barnard, prominent banker and clubman, arrested last night on a warrant charging breach of peace was slated today to have a hearing before a magistrate on Wednesday.

Barnard was divorced by his wife in Norristown, on Jan. 16, and since then, she and her mother allege, he has called them by phone "almost every night" and used "Language that would not bear repeating." Cruelty was Mrs. Barnard's ground for the divorce.

KILLS HUSBAND WITH AXE AFTER QUARREL

New York, March (INS).—Following weeks of quarrel, Mrs. Edith Gluckman, 39, killed her husband, Samuel, 43, a tailor in their home early today with an axe. The man's head was almost severed.

In a quarrel Mrs. Gluckman told police her husband seized the axe and said he was going to kill her. She kicked him, she said, and he fell sprawling to the floor. In the fight for the axe, she seized the weapon and struck him with it several times.

Lesson for March 9 THE REIGN OF SAUL

LESSON TEXT—1 Sam. 15:18-23.
GOLDEN TEXT—Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice.—1 Sam. 15:22.
PRIMARY TOPIC—A King Who Disobeyed God.

JUNIOR TOPIC—A King Who Lost His Kingdom.
YOUTH PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Lessons From Saul's Reign.

In order to properly present this lesson, a survey of chapters 8 to 15 of 1 Samuel should be made.

1. The People Demand a King (1 Sam. 8:1-22).

1. Their Reasons (vv. 1-5):

(1) Samuel was incapacitated by old age.

(2) The unfaithfulness of his sons whom he had appointed as his successors. Samuel greatly blundered in this, for the office of judge was not hereditary.

(3) The desire to be like other nations. Since the surrounding nations had kings as leaders, they wanted a king who would fight their battles.

2. Samuel's Protest (vv. 6-18). He took the matter to the Lord in prayer and the Lord instructed him to solemnly point out to the people the meaning of their action.

(1) The king would make slaves of their daughters and make their sons to serve in his army and do all kinds of heavy work on his farms and in his house.

(2) He would take their lands, even those inherited from their fathers, and give them to his favorite officers and servants. Not content with that, he would take the tenth part of their produce to give to his favorites.

3. Samuel's Intercession (vv. 19-23). Having made up their minds, they deliberately shut their eyes to the truth and simply rushed into the experiment.

II. Saul Chosen as King (1 Sam. 9:1-11).

1. The King Pointed Out (9:1-10:16). Saul was sent to search for his father's asses that had wandered away. While on this errand, Samuel found him and anointed him. Saul and his father were acting freely in this matter, yet at the same time God's purpose was being carried out.

2. The King Chosen at Mizpah (10:17-18). Saul was chosen because of his fitness. If he would have a king, the Lord gave them the one best suited for their needs.

(1) A fine physique. He was head and shoulders above the rest of the people.

(2) Modesty. (3) Self-control. (4) Military instinct.

The method of choice was by lot. When the choice was made, part of the people exclaimed: "Why cried, 'God save the king.' On a mocked and refused allegiance.

III. The King Confirmed at Gilgal (1 Sam. 11).

Saul took advantage of the great victory over the Ammonites to get the people to crown him king.

IV. Saul's Failure (1 Sam. 15).

This is one of the saddest pictures in all history.

1. The Command to Saul (vv. 1-3). He was commanded to utterly exterminate the Amalekites. The reason assigned was their evil treatment of Israel after they came up out of Egypt (Exod. 17:8; Deut. 25:17).

2. The Disobedience of Saul (vv. 4-9). The commandment was carried out only in part. Agag, the king, was spared, and the best of the goods appropriated.

3. Saul Rejected by God (vv. 10-23). (1) Samuel cried to God (v. 11). The news of this disgraceful affair greatly disturbed Samuel, moving him to cry unto God day and night.

(2) Saul's hypocritical pretense (vv. 15-16). This pretense carried a lie upon its face. Though disturbed by a guilty conscience, he tried to conciliate Samuel, but the very bleating of the sheep and the howling of the herds betrayed him. He then tried to put the blame upon the people.

(3) Samuel rebukes before Saul God's dealing with him (vv. 17-23). Samuel met his hypocrisy by bringing him to square face his sin. God is more concerned in having His subjects render obedience unto His commandment than He is for them to offer unto Him sacrifice.

4. The Judgment Upon Saul (vv. 24-28). For the presumptuous offering of the sacrifice, the dynasty passed from Saul's house, and for this act of flagrant disobedience, the kingdom was rent from him. He confessed his sin and begged Samuel to still honor him before the elders of the people. Samuel forsook him and left him alone to suffer in disgrace.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The Second Ward of Clearfield is a mighty queer place, there are some mighty queer people in it and they tell some mighty queer tales. Here are two of them as a sort of illustration. The warm weather of the past week made everybody and everything hereabouts believe spring was at hand. The kids got out their marbles, the robins and blue birds arrived from the sunny south, even the cold-blooded snake felt the urge and started to crawl about. We wouldn't believe this latter statement did anyone but Charley, the 12 year old son of T. J. Murphey tell it. Yesterday afternoon when Charley got home from school in the midst of a snow squall he started to enter the basement door. He noted what he thought was a brown stick on the door sill, but when the door was opened and a breath of warm air flowed out Charley's red face began to rise on end when he saw that "brown stick" shot into the cellar ahead of him. The "stick" hot-footed, or hot-bellied it over near the furnace and a closer inspection showed the lad the "stick" was a brown snake of the "garter" variety, about a foot long. It needs no warmth now.

sess the most thoughtful and most obliging hen in all the confines of the town. This lady possesses a flock of hens which she keeps in a hyla pen in the back yard near the house. The refrigerator is located on the back porch and when that old biddy wants to reward her owner with an egg, which is every day, she ambles fully from her pen, hops to the top of the refrigerator and there deposits her contribution to the family larder. When telling of the accomplishments of her hen, the lady said she was at a loss to explain why the hen preferred the bare top of the refrigerator to the comfortable nest in the pen, except that when the hen was a pullet she was very tame and came up on the porch in search of food and the refrigerator door being open she noted a pan of eggs therein and decided that there was the place for her to deposit her eggs and like the "little red hen," she does it.

"HOUR OF PRAYER" A SUCCESS

The "hour of prayer" for Missions held at the Presbyterian church yesterday, marks a mile stone in church unity of our town. It was an inspiring sight to see that large auditorium filled with women of all denominations united with but one thought—the success of missionary work. Miss Anna Slates' talk on Japan and the recent earthquake in Japan was interesting and instructive. A collection amounting to over $60 was given to Miss Slates who will use it in reconstruction work.

WE'LL HELP YOU PLAN YOUR HOME

These are the days when you are planning to build your new home. And with our service at your command, you'll be surprised how easy it will be to have that home just a little nicer than you planned, a little more convenient, a little more beautiful than you thought you might get for the amount of money you have to invest.

Our plans are varied. We will take your sketches and tell you from them how much it will cost to build. We will plan your home—giving you the benefit of our years of experience in building homes in this city.

The basis of our argument that we can not only save you money on your new home is the fact that we specialize in the building of homes just as your physician has spent years of study preparing to eliminate disease. And in its class home building is just as complicated a profession as medicine—it is the prevention of errors that really counts in the long run.

A PROBE FOR EVERYBODY

A prominent minister, while condemning the immediate offenders in the scandals now being aired at Washington, tells the public some rather harsh truths. He is not greatly impressed with the superior virtues of citizens who are content to point a scornful finger at the culprits. It is the aggregate of virtuous citizens, he insists, who are really responsible.

"We are too busy making money to bother much about government. We are resentful of government interference, and we are content not to interfere in government ourselves, so that the high privilege and grave responsibility of guarding and guiding the lives of 100,000,000 people are left in the hands of professional politicians—as a rule, very ordinary people who are in politics only for gain.

"We blame failure of democracy upon the bosses and the party machines. We thus absolve ourselves. We forget that this is a democracy and that these men are in power as long as we permit them to remain. As long as we shall be content to seek absolution by pointing the finger of condemnation, we shall continue to be betrayed.

Here is a fine opportunity for every citizen to conduct a little inquiry of his own, summoning himself before the bar of his own conscience to see whether he has done his public duty.

THE DAWES PLAN

The report of the Dawes committee on German reparations was accepted before it is submitted. Everything known regarding the plan seems to recommend it, not to one interested party or another, but to all.

André Tardieu, an able French publicist, predicts that the plan will be accepted because "the English are tired of unemployment, the French of financial difficulties, the Germans of unemployment, bankruptcy and the Americans of European anarchy." That is a keen view of the situation. The minor allied creditors may be expected to tag along with France, if she accepts.

America may be expected to back her approval with a loan, but the impression grows that, if she does, in this case it will not be throwing good money after bad but an act comparable to buying fertilizer in order to raise a good crop from soil now unproductive. In other words, it should make possible the payment of money due from Germany and her creditors which we are now unable to collect, and should promote profitable trade with all Europe.

IMMIGRATION QUOTAS

There are sure to be kicks against any immigration bill, especially one severely restricting the number of immigrants. The present law, admitting only three per cent of the representatives of various nationalities represented in our 1910 census, was enacted over the strenuous objection of racial groups already living here who thought they were improperly discriminated against. Similar objections are made now against the proposed two per cent rate as gauged by the 1890 census, which would admit only half as many and apportion them somewhat differently among the various races.

There is a new phase of protest, too. Some of the foreign countries, particularly Italy and Roumania, are kicking now, because the proposed plan would cut into their quotas severely. They seem to think the American immigration reformers are going out of the way to discriminate against them. The foreign protest will probably continue growing in volume.

That is all right. It is unprofitable to denounce such protests as "impudent," as one of our congressmen did the other day. In the place of the objecting nations, the United States might do what they are doing. They have a right to object.

In the Courts

Constable Aaron Peacock of Coalport brought Mike Loneski, of Becaria township to the county jail this morning charged with a heinous crime against his 14-year-old daughter.

Suits were entered in the Clearfield county courts this morning by Daniel Bauman against Rouben H. Robinson, Isaac H. Robinson and Andrew J. Peterson for recovery of coal land in Lawrence township under lease to the Robinson Coal Company. Also to recover $129,186 royalty alleged to be due and unpaid under the lease. The statement filed with the suit says the lease was made Aug. 16, 1920, at 15¢ per ton royalty and re-made June 30, 1922, at 10¢ per ton. A minimum royalty of $1,000 payable monthly was a condition of the lease.

work resumed again in August, 1922, and the unpaid royalty covers this period. It is also alleged that wheelage charges of 1/4 cent per ton are also unpaid. The lease was transferred to Andrew J. Peterson Jan. 1, 1924, is the allegation of the plaintiffs, who also offered checks for royalty on two occasions for less than the amount due, which were refused by the plaintiff, who also says he does not know nor never heard from Andrew J. Peterson in connection with the lease.

The attorneys representing the plaintiff are Sheek, Lahme, Stevens & Hadley, and Kramer & Kramer, of Clearfield.

Mrs. Mildred Davis, 34, 14½ years of age, was found at her home on Nichols street last evening. The evening was spent in playing games and dancing. Dainty refreshments were served at a late hour and the guests reported having spent a very pleasant evening, hoping Mildred will have another soon.

Thrifty folks read the Progress ads.

If they want to. On the other hand, the United States has a perfect right to turn down their objections, having no obligation to them whatever except that of courtesy. For America, like every other country, is the final judge of whom it shall admit to the privileges of residence and citizenship.

Progress Editorials for Women

—AND LEND A HAND

By FLORENCE DAVIES
They were chatting over sandwiches and chocolate in one of the city's smartest tea rooms—the slim, pale, gold-haired girl with a wedding ring on her hand, and her stout, jolly friend, head of a sales force in a bigger city 500 miles away.

"I used to come here to lunch or tea right often with my friends, before I was married," said Golden Locks wistfully. "But no—Well, Horace is queer about my friends, somehow. They don't any of them appeal to him. So I've dropped them little by little. I just don't go anywhere—He's too tired to do it at night."

"Oh, but isn't that a mistake?" queried the friend, who was one of that class sometimes playfully styled "Ladies-in-Waiting." "Seems to me Horace is not 'queer' but downright selfish, if he wants you to give up all your old friends. If a girl does that and stays at home eternally she falls behind. So far behind that her husband, who is out among people, stirring about and mixing up with a thousand things every day, is going to lose sight of her altogether after awhile. Now isn't he?"

Golden locks gave a little shrug, but her eager, little pointed face was quite serious. "Horace used to tell me about his day sometimes, but now he never comes to talk. Doesn't tell me his business or anyone else's met or anything. You don't know how good it seems to be out again with someone that really talks and listens to you." The business woman never expected conversation at home because her neat little flat was quite as empty when she unlocked it at night as when she left next morning. But she knew that if she had left some Horace or Henry slip a ring on her third finger of her left hand she would expect a easy exchange of the day's events either over the dinner table or later. She was fair minded; however, and not too ready with sympathy on principle. "I suppose we really want to forget all that when he comes home. We business women know how that goes," she observed cheerily. "The thing for you is to get interested in some of the really big things that women are doing. Do you know they have statistics now that show how many children are under sixteen because their little backs have bent over onion peels so many how do you? Fact. Work for a child labor law that will hold water—Get into a Peace Union Society and help make the world safe for your son when he comes. Study the social issues, problems. At the other end of the scale, get interested in the hungry children of the mines in the Southern part of your own State."

"Stores are well stocked with children's garments as a rule," said her friend, with a bit of mischief in her voice. "But there, you will have plenty more opportunities to take hold and help along something worthwhile. My point is that the day of the woman who has interests are confined inside four walls is over. If she has children she needs to look around her all the more, for they are not safe if other mothers' children are not. As for Horace he won't think less of you if you find a few worthwhile interests of your own. I prophesy you will find something to talk about that he can't help listening to if you follow my advice."

Curwensville's Own Column

The store room in the J. and J. Smith block, facing Meadow street, at the east end of Fifth street, is in the hands of carpenters and is being overhauled and converted into a new store room. R. M. Wright will occupy it when everything is in ship shape, with a shoe store, combined with a lot of novelty goods. Mr. Wright has been in the mercantile trade in one way or another for many years, and there is no reason in the world why he cannot make good in this new venture in which he is about to set sail.

Comrade James Booth's restaurant has been overhauled by both carpenters and painters this week and is now a pleasant place in which to entertain many persons who have discovered that Jim's place furnishes up-to-date meals and luncheons. Jim's barber shop has also received ample notice from the hand of painter.

A lady has requested us to announce in this column that the Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church of Curwensville, is planning to hold a Bazaar on Sunday during the second week in April.

easy winner over the New Bethlehem High entry, 34-14, last evening at New Bethlehem. The game was interesting despite the final figures and was witnessed by a large crowd.

After jockeying for a rail position the local five moved into a 7-4 lead as the first period ended, although the going was rather unsteady and many shots at short range were missed. The second period the Red and Black team fought their stride, and after a real point-getting session led 19-6 at the half-way mark. The third period found the Red charges using an entirely different combination, yet the lead was lengthened and New Bethlehem trailed 28 to 10 at the end of the third period. Both teams started down the home stretch "a-flying," but Clearfield got out of 9 points and as the game ended 34-12.

Although winning easily, the Clearfield team used all substitutes available, while every possible combination was tried. Their defense was "loose," big traps as can easily be seen in the fact that New Bethlehem garnered but four field goals. The passing was up to standard, yet they had little real space in which to show fast passing. Shooting was fair, many shots of all types being missed. Trying out various combinations held the score down.

Bobby Wilson led the scoring, with seven double deckers, while Nick Brown ran him a close second with five two pointers. Mitch finished the list with two field goals for a total of 14 to 4 field goals. What the others lacked in point getting they made up in other work and all in all they played a championship game. The "Newbies" could not get to the Clearfield attack but showed a good defense, while Doverspike and Murray helped their team considerably.

Boys of Rafferty's New Bethlehem

Field Goals: New Bethlehem—Murray 3, Doverspike, Starnes; Clearfield—Wilson 7, Brown 5, Mitch 2. Foul goals: New Bethlehem, 5 out of 18; Clearfield, 6 out of 9.

Clearfield High's feminine court representatives were again forced to defeat when Lock Haven Normal girls bested them 25-22 last evening on the C. H. S. floor.

The visitors led 13-0 at the first period, then Clearfield's apparent stage fright wore off and they outplayed and outscored the visitors from that point. But the 13 points lead was too much to overcome. Clearfield's forwards found it hard to locate the basket until Miss Maurey scored, then score after score was rung up. Clearfield's entire team played a bang-up game, every player acquitting himself well except in foul shooting, which proved their undoing.

Talk to users of the new GOODYEAR FLYING with the Bevelled All-Weather Tread and they will tell you it is superior in three important phases of performance.

MILEAGE—The tread is made from new and extremely long wearing rubber, compounded, the toughest and most serviceable in Goodyear history.

SECURITY—The semi-flat design gives a broader road contact and increased traction. The heavier side walls resist rut and curb wear.

SMOOTHNESS—Heavier rubber reinforcing ribs at the base of the tread-cut blocks make the tread design a firm unit and result in a more quietly running tire.

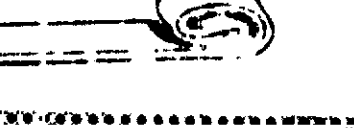

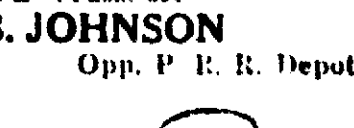

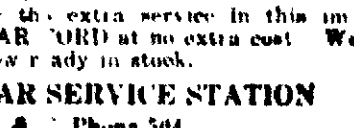

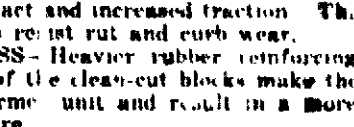

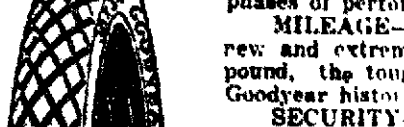

You can buy the extra service in this improved GOODYEAR FLYING at no extra cost. We have your size now in stock.

To Our Subscribers

Last year we added thirty millions of dollars' worth of plant for the telephone service of Pennsylvania. We told you about this through the public press and by various other means. We want you to know our job and how we are doing it. In a public service such as this the public should have all the facts.

Many of our subscribers are asking the questions—Why all this rush? Why all these new buildings? Construction costs are high these days. Why this tremendous expansion of your switchboards and lines? Why not take it a little easier?

Fair questions! And they merit a four-square answer.

THE BELL TELEPHONE CO. OF PENNSYLVANIA
L. H. KINNARD, President

That's the extent of my conversation with Bennett, as I recall it." "I observe the speech of Norris was Jan 30," said Walsh.

"Did you have any talk between that and Jan. 3 with Bennett?"

"That's my recollection," replied Curtis.

"Do you remember any talk with Bennett touching the political effect of disclosures?"

"I do not."

"Did Bennett ever deliver a message from McLean?"

"He did not."

"That is all," said Walsh.

Curtis was excused, and Bennett was called.

"Do you care to make any further statement?" asked Walsh.

"Senator Curtis has apparently forgotten one conversation and probably two I had with him. I reiterate I had one conversation and probably two he doesn't remember."

"What he said today was absolutely correct as far as he relates our conversation," said Bennett.

Bennett said he had talked with Walsh himself about the attack on "McLean's family," which moved Walsh to reply.

"The committee would like to know about your talk with Senator Curtis," commanded Walsh.

"Curtis denies that he had any conversation with you which could lead to the 'principal' telegram," Walsh added.

"He has forgotten at least one or two conversations," Bennett replied.

"But Senator Curtis has told of all three conversations," Walsh said sharply.

"There were two conversations he hasn't referred to," said Bennett mysteriously.

THERE ARE SO MANY THINGS

that one requires of a funeral director, when he has been called, that it is logical that only the funeral director who has a broad background of experience, and the best and most modern of equipment, will be able to come fully up to those requirements.

A funeral director should be chosen with care. One should know how long he has been in business, what his reputation is and what sort of equipment he has. The time to decide is not in that tumultuous hour when he is needed. Now is the time for the decision.

Ear Corn Hog Fattening
Device Proven Success

An ingenious method by which ear corn can be fed to hogs by means of a self-feeder has been tried out with success on one of our western farms and should prove valuable to some of our feeders.

The self-feeder consists of a long triangular-shaped hopper suspended with the apex down. In this is an opening the entire length below which is a wooden strip some two by three inches according to the size of ears. The hopper is suspended so that it swings on an axis that allows it to be rocked to and fro as the hogs root for the corn they see protruding from the aperture. This rocking motion feeds the corn out. It can be placed on the ground or the feeding platform below. As many sections can be installed as desired, the suggested length for each being eight feet, taking care of about fourteen medium-sized hogs.—F. L. Cooper, Agricultural Engineer, Colorado Agricultural College.

The Adults In Every Family Should Have Plenty of Milk In Their Diet

Most folks, especially those who give little or no attention to their diet, have come to think that milk is essentially a food for babies. This has come about thru the constant association of ideas. When you think of little baby, you naturally think of milk. But tests have been made whereby milk has been shown to be as essential in the diet of grown-ups as it is in the diet of the growing baby.

In the first place milk contains fats. These fats are necessary for the adults and in no other single form of food can you find the fats in chemical form which are so easily digestible as they are in milk.

The vitamins, of which the medical fraternity have been proving are the thing for many folks, are in milk in their two forms—soluble A and soluble B. These two different chemical ingredients in milk are so easily assimilated by your system and are in the milk in such perfect chemical harmony, that you at once get the building up process which these vitamins produce.

The fact that lime is more abundant in milk than in any of the common foods, assures your body of a plentiful supply of this very important mineral.

Then comes sugar. The sugar contained in milk is not the sugar of your table. It is not sweet and many folks who abhor sugar in its common form can get all the sugar that their systems require by drinking plenty of milk, and they get the chemical effects without the unpleasant, to many folks, taste of the ordinary cane or beet sugar.

Then, it follows that all adults should drink as much milk as they can possibly assimilate. Start drinking at least a quart of our milk during the day—at intervals if you prefer—but drink the quart and you'll soon see that you are feeling better and that your general condition of health is very much improved.

NEWSBig Mistakes Commonly
Made in Feeding Stock

Following a questionnaire study of live stock feeding problems and how farmers are meeting them made by the United States Department of Agriculture during the summer, the department is receiving numerous comments on the subject. Among those recently made was one containing the experiences of a Kansas farmer who considered abrupt changes in feeding, poor combinations of feed, and insufficient water to be the principal mistakes commonly made in feeding. See how live stock sold on the open market was to this farmer a means of concluding also that live stock of improved breeding made greater gains and produced more than common stock fed in the same way. In the experience of this farmer the improved live stock was 25 per cent more profitable from a feeding standpoint.

An eastern dairyman relates how he improved his dairy feeding methods by the better feeding of dry cows and by applying silage during summer months. Feeding according to production and condition has likewise been beneficial. This farmer, in discussing the relation of breeding to feeding, stated that his present herd bull and the application of line breeding have resulted in heifers about 20 per cent better than their dams. Many other comments of which the foregoing is typical, direct attention to means of getting better results from feeds. A compilation of the material obtained by the department has been prepared and may be obtained by addressing the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture.

These young stockmen, Webster and Dana Catledge, have been practicing the feeding and care of pigs under the direction of their county agricultural agent since 1919, when they secured a pure bred sire in partnership. This they grew into a prize-winning animal. In 1920, each bought a gilt, giving his personal note for the purchase price, and later they together invested in a young boar to replace their old one. From these purchases they have built up an excellent herd. They have shown their sows and litters at a number of county, county, and district fairs, and have sold many of the young pigs.

In 1922, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture, in addition to winning a scholarship to the junior short course at the State Agricultural college, they received over $250 cash returns from their stock and had on hand more than $600 worth of hogs.

176 Miners Reported Entombed In Wyoming

SENATOR CURTIS DENIES STATEMENT OF BENNETT THAT HE IS "PRINCIPAL"

Committee Despairs of
Exactly Opposites.

By KENNETH CLARK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, March 8. (INS.)—Dis-
turbingly conflicting stories were given
today by two witnesses—Senator
Charles Curtis, of Kansas, Republican
whip of the Senate, and Ira E. Ben-
nett, chief editorial writer of the Washington Post. Both were under
frequently trembled unspoken on the
lips of both during a lively session of
the committee.

principal" referred to in Bennett's telegram to E. B. McLean, the telegram
that accused McLean "the principal"
had said there would be no rocking of
as a result of the oil mess.

Bennett said he had consulted Cur-
tis about the policy of the Post in
printing news of the oil investigation.
—Curtis denied it.

Bennett and Curtis told him that he (Curtis) had advised President Cool-
idge to "get rid of Daugherty"—Curtis denied it.

Bennett said he had several conversations with Curtis about the political
aspects of the investigation—Curtis
denied it.

Bennett and he saw Curtis just before he sent the famous "Principal"
telegram to McLean—Curtis denied it.
All of the testimony was under
oath, and the situation became exceedingly tense at times during the
session.

At last the committee, apparently
despairing of ever reconciling the directly conflicting stories, dismissed
them both and recalled John F. Major,
McLean's confidential representative
to the witness stand for more ques-

Washington, March 8.—Senator
Curtis, Republican, of Kansas, took
the stand in the Senate's oil investigation today and denied under oath
that he was the "Principal" in the
telegram which Ira E. Bennett sent to
E. B. McLean at Palm Beach on Jan. 27.

It was this telegram, which quoted
"the Principal" as assuring McLean
there would be "no rocking the boat
and no resignations" as a result of
the oil disclosures. Democratic Senators have charged that the "Principle" was President Coolidge.

Bennett said yesterday under oath
"The Principal" was Senator Curtis.
Curtis said he preferred that the
committee question him but at Senator Walsh's suggestion made a short
statement.

"About the second or third of January, Bennett and John F. Major (Mc-Lean's Secretary) called at my office.
They said they came in the interest
of McLean who was ill at Palm Beach
and desired to be relieved from testifying.

been operated on.
They asked me to see Senator
Walsh and ascertain if the committee
would take a statement. I suggested
they see Senators Underwood and
Robinson. I might have said to see
Senator Lenroot.

"I don't remember seeing Bennett
again until Senator Norris made his
speech (Jan. 30).—In that speech he
made some reference to McLean's
family. I asked Senator Norris to
would.

"I told Bennett Senator Norris
would withdraw his remarks, and suggested he have McLean wire thanks

Been Forced Down On
Mountains Between
Bellefonte-Cleveland.

Aviator Pearson, one of the government mail plane pilots, engaged in
the flying mail service between Bellefonte and Cleveland, is lost "some-
where" north of Clearfield and grave
fears for his life are entertained by
his fellows in the service.

Pearson left Bellefonte at 2:30 yesterday afternoon on his daily schedule and it is reported was seen in the vicinity of Winburne about 3 o'clock. As
here practically all afternoon and a
terrific March blizzard hit this sec-
blowing a gale, accompanied by squal
after squal of snow, which made travel
even on the roads impossible at
times.

Report from DuBois is to the effect
that a plane was seen circling in the
air by residents of the Third Ward
section of the city about 4 o'clock,
while a similar story comes from Brookville, with the further information that after circling the town several times the plane headed north.

This was undoubtedly the same plane.
Pearson failed to report at any
quarters at Bellefonte been able to get
any authentic information concerning
him up to this time, although they
have kept the telephone wires busy
all day long seeking news of Pearson.

We were informed by the mail station at Bellefonte at 3 o'clock this afternoon that persons near Snow Shoe
report they heard a plane in the air
near that place about 5:15 o'clock last
evening and it is feared that Pearson
ing back attempted to regain the be-
at Bellefonte; and was either forced to
land or the plane crashed with him
Clearfield.

The local Bell telephone exchange,
which has kept up a constant query
all day, says that a Woodland plane
after they heard a plane over
that section as late as 7:15 last evening but it is likely imagination has
much to do with these stories.

Although Blast Let Go
at 9 a. m. No Word Has
Been Received from the

MOUTH IS JAMMED

Castle Gate, Utah, March 8. (INS.)—
A terrific explosion occurred today
pany here.

Mine officials said the blast came
just after 9 o'clock.

No word from the interior of the
mine had been received up to noon.

the underground workings at 7 o'clock
this morning.
Rescue work was under way within
thirty minutes after the explosion occurred, but the work was badly hampered by lack of equipment in Castle
Gate and the fact that the mouth of
the mine was jammed with debris that
had been buried by the force of the blast.

Winter Quarters, and Pinyon, Utah, in
what is known as the Scofield field,
were immediately ordered to the scene
of the accident, and it was expected
they would reach here shortly after 1
o'clock.

A crew with masks and oxygen para-
phernalia was reported on its way
here from Hiawatha, Utah.

Crowds of weeping women and children gathered around the mouth of
explosion and it was necessary to
keep many of the hysterical women
from entering the tunnel in an effort

Salt Lake City, Utah, March 8.
(INS.)—Officials of the Utah Fuel
Company here after receiving reports
from the mine this afternoon expressed fears that 175 men believed trapped
in the Castle Gate mine No. 2,
would perish. They had no word of
any workers making their way to safety.

MISSOURI DELEGATES

St. Louis, March 8. (INS.)—Most of
the delegates chosen to the Township
Democratic State Convention in the Springfield April 15, uninstructed, although some of the delegates selected
are known to be "hostile" to United
reported in reports here today.

Find Jobs for Many Veterans.
A total of 4,194 jobs were found for
veterans in Kansas City, Mo., by the
employment committee of the Ameri-
can Legion, according to a recent re-
least 400 of the men thus employed
are in permanent positions as a result
of the Legion's efforts in placement.
According to the figures nearly 1,000
of the positions found for the former
service men were permanent positions,
the remainder representing the short-
time jobs which are usually afforded
veterans of more or less transient
character. These jobs, committee
men to retain their self-respect, be-
cause the work tested their requests

Mrs. R. J. Henderson, of Pittsburgh
new Arline Goodlander is spending

nut street.

The air service is much concerned
over Pearson's disappearance, and
will make every effort to locate him.
If anyone has any information concerning the lost plane they will consider a favor by calling Bellefonte air
station or The Progress.

DENBY REITERATES BELIEF IN LEASES BEING O.K. FOR U.S.

Were Made Without
Competitive Bidding;

Washington, March 8. (INS.)—On
the eve of his retirement to private
life, Secretary of the Navy Denby to-
day again came to the defense of the
with H. F. Sinclair and E. L. Doheny
are beneficial to the government.

Denby's position was made known
in a letter addressed to Representative Britten, Republican of Illinois,
responding to a House resolution requesting certain information concerning the leases.

Denby repudiated reports that the
leases were made without competitive
bidding and declared that as a result
of the leasing of Teapot Dome, the Government in 1923 received 41 cents
per barrel more for royalty oil than
the selling price of all other producers
in the Salt Creek field adjoining the Wyoming reserve.

reached even the minimum anticipated
at the time of the lease, the amount
royalty oil above the daily market
000,000, and would have exceeded by
many millions of dollars all of the
cash benefits that could have been
realized from the sale of Government leases in the Salt
Creek field, Denby declared.

the express provisions of act of June 4, 1920, which was adopted upon the
recommendation of ex-Secretary of
the Navy Daniels, and declared that
work is expressly provided for in the
act of May 21, 1920. The navy, he
said, has frequently performed services for the War and Treasury Departments.

Denby's letter answered 28 specific
questions asked him by the resolution
introduced by Representative Britten,
Republican, of Illinois, who has mainly defended the leases.

Replying to a question whether
Daniels had approved leases of certain portions of naval reserves "with-
out public advertisements," Denby
said:

"Under date of August 21, 1920, the
then Secretary of the Navy (Daniels),
informed the then Secretary of the Interior (Payne) that the lease to the Boston-Pacific Oil Company covering
the drilling of five new wells on section 32 of naval reserve No. 2, (Buena
Navy Department.

"The correspondence shows that the
in conference between representatives
of the oil company and representatives of the Navy Department and
such new drilling was considered necessary because of drainage by owners
in contiguous territory."

Commenting on Denby's letter,
Britten, in a statement, said:

"It is quite evident that the oil
leases were drawn in the very best interests of the Navy and that the Government was protected in every possible manner."

MONDAY NIGHT

At the regular meeting of the local
American Legion to be held on Mon-
day evening it is expected that the
matter of a new and permanent home
will be the principal item of business

Pittsburgh, March 8. (INS.)—William Lebre, alias Lebre, of Central City, Somerset County, Pa., was taken to Cambria county today where
he is accused of being one of the alleged hold-up men who attempted to
rob the First National Bank at Baker-
town, Pa., last November.

Local detectives captured Lebre,
after searching for him for several
months, late yesterday, and locked
him up as a suspicious person.

who operated extensively in Western Pennsylvania according to a private
detective agency.

DEATH TAKES PAT MORAN, MAKER OF LEAGUE PITCHERS

I. N. S. Sports Editor

New York, March 8.—Death the
inevitable of all things mortal, sat in
the game down at Orlando, Fla., yesterday and dealt the Cincinnati Reds
a pair of deuces from a marked deck.
Reaching out an icy hand, it claimed
the stakes in the person of Patrick
Joseph Moran, famous manager, and
are speculating as to just how far
reaching will be the effect on the im-
pending national League race.

It may be much or little, depending
on how well Jack Hendricks Moran's
man gone wrong. He never got a chance in St. Louis and was shipped
back to the American Association
with scant farewell.

He knows baseball and can handle
men. The Reds could have fared further and fared worse—but Moran
was Moran.

The Cincinnati Reds are his ball
club, conceived by him, weaned from
mediocrity and reared to full growth.
There is hardly a man on the ball
club who does not owe his present
status in baseball to Pat Moran. They are the product of his system and
they know that the name of Pat
Moran stood for success.

He had an almost magic ability to
make ball players play better than
they knew how, as the saying goes, a
trick of getting better than the best
out of a man.

He did this in bringing the only
pennant to Philadelphia in 1915, winning with two pitchers, a catcher and
a shortstop. It was the same with
the Reds in 1919 who played above

Pittsburgh, March 8. (INS.)—With
late call to Western Pennsylvania,
bringing with him all his parapher-
nalia that he uses in mid-winter.

Beginning at 2 o'clock yesterday
afternoon a 44 mile an hour wind
came out of nowhere and accompanied by a small sized blizzard
drove the mercury down seven degrees in one hour.

The wind abated somewhat during
the night but it became colder.

Fair and colder is predicted for to-
day and Sunday.

Hon. Singleton Bell To Be Given Honorary Membership In S. of I.

Honorary membership in the Sons
of Italy will be conferred on Hon.
Singleton Bell at a special session of
the local lodge Due Palme of the
order to be held at the Hotel Dime-
ling on Sunday afternoon, March 9th,
at 2 o'clock. The initiatory ceremonies will be in charge of the State
be witnessed by a number of the local
friends of Judge Bell and the local
lodge who are not affiliated there-
with.

The Sons of Italy is an organization made up of, as the name implies, men of Italian nativity or de-
scendant who are now residents of this country. Its mission is for the betterment and uplift of its membership
and the teaching of American principles to those of Italian birth coming to this country. The organization
has a membership of more than 125,000 in Pennsylvania.

Judge Bell, who is on very friendly
personal relations with a number of
the State Officers and who because
familiar with the good work of the Sons of Italy during the World War
when their loyalty to America and
her institutions stood out in marked
contrast to that of other racial groups
in this country, has taken a great
personal interest in the organization
and assisted them in their good work
from time to time as opportunity presented itself, and it was these many
good offices of Judge Bell, which
moved the recent State convention at DuBois to confer honorary membership upon Judge Bell, the movement
for such honor being headed by State
President Joseph Di Silvestre, of

TRIPLE TIE NOW EXISTS IN BASKET BALL LEAGUE RACE

Pennant.

MUST PLAY OFF TIE

This branch of the High School Basketball League ends its season with a
triple tie, the teams representing
Clearfield, DuBois and Punxsy
occupying the top rung of the ladder,
each eager and willing to battle to a
finish for the honor of representing
the section at the inter-sectional games
at Grove City, where the champion-
ship team will be picked.

This triple tie has long been expected as the opening games dis-
closed the fact that the three teams
mentioned were not only much stronger
than Brookville and New Bethlehem, but were so evenly matched that
the final result at the end of the season would be as we find it this morning.

In the final games last evening
Clearfield defeated New Bethlehem 34
to 18 the game being played at New Bethlehem, while Punxsy took Brook-
ville into camp on the Punxsy floor by
a 34-9 score.

Representatives of the three schools
gathered at the DuBois High School
at one o'clock this afternoon to draw
up the plans for the play-off, which
will undoubtedly be played on Monday evening. The plans, however, have not yet been definitely known as yet. The sectional games at Grove City are played the
last part of next week, and it will
be necessary for the local league
games to be played early in the week,
that the winning team may be prepared for the championship games.

At the end of the regular league
season the standing of the teams is:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Clearfield	6	2	.750
Punxsy	6	2	.750
DuBois	6	2	.750
Brookville	2	6	.250
New Bethlehem	0	6	.000

Clinton, Pa., March 8. (INS.)—Abraham Lasee, 90, died at his home
here today as the result of injuries
received last Monday when he was
kicked by a mule.

Lasee, before retiring last Monday
night, made the rounds of his property to see if everything was in order.
As he passed the stall occupied by a
lid of the feed box falling on him. As
he lay on the floor of the stall the
head and side.

"NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH"

A delightful entertainment was
Cooper Township High School. They
presented the play "Nothing but the Truth" in exceptionally fine style.
They had worked hard and their efforts were crowned with success.
The acting was clever and the plots
very well taken. The entire entertainment was very enjoyable. The
proceeds which amounted to over

GEORGE D. HESS

George D. Hess, of Cooper Township, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Blanche Williams at Kylerstown, Pa., Feb. 18th, 1924 at the ripe old age of 90 years, 2 months and 21 days. Although a native of Centre County, having been born at Aaronsburg, Nov. 24, 1833, the son of Benjamin and Mary Hess, he came to this county as a small boy and became a factor in its development. At a very early age, he learned the trade of carpenter and followed that calling for many years. On December 30, 1858, he married Amanda Daugherty to which union nine children were born, one of whom survive Albert E. Hess, the well known construction carpenter Mrs. J. W. Moore, of San Diego, Cal.; Mr. T. A. Leonard, of Pullman, Wash.; M. L. Lido Hoover, of Altoona, Pa., and Mrs. Blanche Williams of Kylerstown, Pa.

For the past thirty years, Mr. Hess has been an invalid, his infirmities resulting from rheumatism. Though his sufferings were intense and of long duration he never lost faith in the wisdom of his Creator whom he served. The writer has been intimate with Mr. Hess for the last 25 years and never once heard him use a profane word. A Methodist in the true sense of the word and a Republican in political belief he was steadfast and adamant in his refusal to espouse any other doctrine; a veritable Rock of Gibraltar of faith and as unshakable as the laws of the Medes and the Persians.

He was laid to rest Thursday, February 21st, 1924 in Sylvan Grove cemetery.

FUNERAL OF ANTONIO BRUGLIA

The funeral of Antonio Bruglia, held from St. Francis church Thursday morning, was one of the largest funerals ever seen in Clearfield. The deceased was a respected citizen of the town. Ward for many years, earning the respect of his neighbors by his industrious, up-right life. He was prominently identified with the local S. M. of Italy lodge and the turn out of neighbors and members of this order attested to the high standing of Mr. Bruglia in this community.

The funeral cortege which was made up of about seventy-five automobiles, was headed by the Clearfield Italian Band and the members of Due Palme Lodge, S. M. of I. Interment was made in Calvary cemetery.

The deceased is survived by a widow and three children.

Problem Sheets to Aid Feeders of Live Stock

In connection with a plan for the better feeding of live stock, conducted by various states and the United States Department of Agriculture, the department is now distributing to county agents and extension workers of co-operating states copies of the new feeding problem sheets which is the basis of the work. This sheet, attractively printed in red and black, has been designed for the convenience of live stock feeders who desire expert assistance in feeding problems. It provides for a brief outline of the problem and other information related to it, including what the farmer has already done to solve this problem. There is a space for comments and recommendations of the county agent. The information desired is then furnished by the state agricultural college, to which the blank is sent, or, at the option of the state extension director, by the United States Department of Agriculture. The state will in most cases answer questions relating to conditions in the state, while the department will give information on problems of a more general character or those on which the department is conducting special investigations.

The better feeding of live stock service has been developed in response to a popular demand, and it is believed, will not only facilitate correspondence on feeding questions, but will make possible more explicit responses.

MRS. EDWARD HANEY DIES

Mrs. Edward Haney, a respected resident of Boggs township, died at her home at Bethlehem about 5 o'clock this morning after a brief illness. The deceased is survived by her husband and six children. Funeral notice later.

BABY DIES FROM EATING PINK LAXATIVE PILLS

Sara Blanche Smouse, 20-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen A. Smouse, of Cloe, died yesterday afternoon as the result, it is said, of eating a large quantity of pink laxative pills. How the little one secured the pills is not definitely known.

She was a pretty, fat healthy baby whose loss is keenly felt by neighbors and in the Smouse home. She leaves, besides her parents, a sister and a brother.

WOODLAND BOY DIES AT HOSPITAL

Archey Peters, the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Roy Peters of Woodland, died at the Clearfield hospital at 8:30 o'clock last evening of heart trouble with which he had been afflicted for a long time.

He is survived by his parents and eleven brothers and sisters, Archie's death being the first break in the family circle.

With each reply to feeding problems answered by the department there goes a return post card on which a person given information is asked to report the results obtained. Replies received thus far have indicated either entire success or improvement. The follow-up system thus leaves nothing to chance and places the future development of the service on a substantial basis.

The department is already analyzing the various problems submitted and will issue from time to time statements on results.

There are large numbers of lambs in the cornfields of northern Colorado. Most of these lambs have been on the corn for three or four weeks. They have stripped the plants of leaves and husks and are eating the corn grain in some instances with very little forage available to lighten the ration. Unless the lambs are supplied with plenty of forage and arrangements made so they will consume it, there is danger from now on of heavy death losses, due to a too heavy corn feed.

Lambs are being held in the pens and fed alfalfa until noon, then turned on the corn until evening with good success. They are herded in the pens over night and held there until the following noon on hay. This causes them to take up a good deal of alfalfa before going on the corn and so far death losses of these lambs have been negligible.

The lambs need alfalfa or other protein forage for protection against too much grain, and should be made to take it in sufficient quantities to regulate the grain they consume. If a protein hay is not available and it is necessary to feed them on prairie hay or straw about 1-10 lb. a pound of linseed meal or cottonseed meal should make a good substitute.

In experiments with lambs in the cornfields salt has been used satisfactorily as a mineral supplement.—E. J. Maryland, Colorado State Experiment Station

Wide distribution of sign "Pure Bred Sires Exclusively Used on This Farm" is now being made by the United States Department of Agriculture in co-operating states in connection with their "Better Sires—Better Stock" activities. Many of the signs are being distributed to persons who already have enrolled in the organized plan for live stock improvement through better sires, but requests are also being received from persons who have seen the sign and wish to qualify for it.

Editor John E. Short of the Republican, was advised by long distance phone last evening that his son Frank W. Short, budget clerk to Mayor Kendrick of Philadelphia, had passed most successfully through an operation at Jefferson Hospital yesterday afternoon. The operation was performed by Drs. Rugh and Deavers. Mr. Short has been suffering severely for almost two years from an affection of the spine, due to an injury received in a fall. His physicians were baffled for a time and were not able to correctly diagnose the trouble until a fortunate bump in an automobile during the last Mayoralty campaign served to rupture a pus sack at the seat of the infection and allowed the X-ray to detect the actual difficulty, which was a splinted vertebrae at the extreme end of the backbone.

A splinter of bone was found to be pressing upon a nerve and when this pressure was removed great improvement was almost instantly noted. The patient was soon able to leave the hospital, but several weeks ago the old trouble began to return and yesterday's operation was decided upon. When the operation was performed Dr. Rugh found just what he had anticipated. The backbone had been splinted and a cartilaginous growth forming had exerted pressure on the adjoining nerves, was responsible for all of Mr. Short's difficulties. The bone splinters and the growth were removed and instant relief afforded, which the doctors say will be permanent and that after a few weeks in the hospital Frank will again be able to take up his duties, which will indeed be good news to his local friends.

According to department records more than 125,000 live stock owners in the country are now known to be using pure bred sires for all classes of live stock kept. These persons have agreed also to follow methods leading to further improvement.

Sunday School Lesson

Dean of the Evening School, Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Copyright, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON TEXT—1 Sam. 15:18-23.
GOLDEN TEXT—Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice.—1 Sam. 15:22.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A King Who Lost His Kingdom.
YOUTH PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Lessons From Saul's Reign.

In order to properly present this lesson, a survey of chapters 8 to 15 of 1 Samuel should be made.

1. The People Demand a King (1 Sam. 8:1-22).

1. Their Reasons (vv. 1-5):

(1) Samuel was incapacitated by old age.

(2) The unfaithfulness of his sons whom he had appointed as his successors. Samuel greatly blundered in this, for the office of judge was not hereditary.

(3) The desire to be like other nations. Since the surrounding nations had kings as leaders, they wanted a king who would fight their battles.

2. Samuel's Protest (vv. 6-18). He took the matter to the Lord in prayer and the Lord instructed him to solemnly point out to the people the meaning of their action.

(1) The king would make slaves of their daughters and make their sons to serve in his army and do all kinds of heavy work on his farms and in his house.

(2) He would take their lands, even those inherited from their fathers, and give them to his favorite officers and servants. Not content with that, he would take the tenth part of their produce to give to his favorites.

3. Samuel's Intercession (vv. 19-20). Having made up their minds, they deliberately shut their eyes to the truth and simply rushed into the experiment.

4. Saul Chosen as King (1 Sam. 9:11).

1. The King Pointed Out (9:1-10:16). Saul was sent to search for his father's asses that had wandered away. While on this errand, Samuel found him and anointed him. Saul and his father were acting freely in this matter, yet at the same time God's purpose was being carried out.

2. The King Chosen at Mizpah (10:17-27). Saul was chosen because of his youthfulness. If he would have a king, the Lord gave them the one best suited for their needs.

(1) A fine physique. He was head and shoulders above the rest of the people.

(2) Modesty. (3) Self-control. (4) Military instinct.

The method of choice was by lot. When the choice was made, part of the people exclaimed: "Why cried, 'God save the king.' On a mocked and refused allegiance.

III. The King Confirmed at Gilgal (1 Sam. 11).

IV. Saul's Failure (1 Sam. 15).

This is one of the saddest pictures in all history.

1. The Command to Saul (vv. 1-3). He was commanded to utterly exterminate the Amalekites. The reason assigned was their evil treatment of Israel after they came up out of Egypt (Exod. 17:8; Deut. 25:17).

2. The Disobedience of Saul (vv. 4-9). The commandment was carried out only in part. Agag, the king, was spared, and the best of the goods appropriated.

3. Saul Rejected by God (vv. 10-23). (1) Samuel cried to God (v. 11). The news of this disgraceful affair greatly disturbed Samuel, moving him to cry unto God day and night.

(2) Saul's hypocritical pretense (vv. 15-16). This pretense carried a lie upon its face. Though disturbed by a guilty conscience, he tried to conciliate Samuel, but the very bleating of the sheep and the howling of the herds betrayed him. He then tried to put the blame upon the people.

(3) Samuel rebukes before Saul God's dealing with him (vv. 17-23). Samuel met his hypocrisy by bringing him to square face his sin. God is more concerned in having His subjects render obedience unto His commandment than He is for them to offer unto Him sacrifice.

4. The Judgment Upon Saul (vv. 24-30). For the presumptuous offering of the sacrifice, the dynasty passed from Saul's house, and for this act of flagrant disobedience, the kingdom was rent from him. He confessed his sin and begged Samuel to still honor him before the elders of the people. Samuel forsook him and left him alone to suffer in disgrace.

Bible school rally Supt. O. T. Tobias announces beginning at 9:30 with special music. He is anxious to have the last Sunday of the conference year a rounded out gathering—memorable for numbers, offering, enthusiasm and study.

Holy Communion both morning and evening, with special events. Baptism of children at 10:30 sharp; adults, 9 a. m. Evening message a superb subject—a notable character with three great names. What is the average feeling when the name of a Borgia, or Nero is pronounced; Florence Nightingale or a Lincoln? There is something in a name. And when the NAME is spoken—what then?

All obligations, let the members, please, close out. Let every one in and out of town identified with Trinity Church have a part in the worship tomorrow. Reception of members both morning and evening.

Trinity Church welcomes the stranger and visitor; has a special care for commercial travelers. Tomorrow turn to Trinity. Good music, free sittings. Our pastor responds to every call for his services. Conference meets in Williamsport Wednesday, 12th. Special service Sunday morning, 16th; a noted minister of Philadelphia.

A farewell party was given at the home of Mrs. Walter Fullington on Margaretta street last evening in honor of Al Beatty, who has enlisted in the U. S. army and leaves Friday for Harrisburg. Mrs. Beatty will be sent to the Philippine Islands. We all wish the couple the best of luck on his journey.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The Second Ward of Clearfield is a mighty queer place, there are some mighty queer people in it and they tell some mighty queer tales. Here are two of them as a sort of illustration. The warm weather of the past week made everybody and everything hereabouts believe spring was at hand. The kids got out their marbles, the robins and blue birds arrived from the sunny south, even the cold-blooded snake felt the urge and started to crawl about. We wouldn't believe this latter statement did anyone but Charley, the 12 year old son of T. J. Murphey tell it. Yesterday afternoon when Charley got home from school in the midst of a snow squall he started to enter the basement door. He noted what he thought was a brown stick on the door sill, but when the door was opened and a breath of warm air flowed out Charley's red face began to rise on end when he saw that "brown stick" shot into the cellar ahead of him. The "stick" hot-footed, or hot-bellied it over near the furnace and a closer inspection showed the lad the "stick" was a brown snake of the "garter" variety, about a foot long. It needs no warmth now.

When telling of the accomplishments of her hen, the lady said she was at a loss to explain why the hen preferred the bare top of the refrigerator to the comfortable nest in the pen, except that when the hen was a pullet she was very tame and came up on the porch in search of food and the refrigerator door being open she noted a pan of eggs therein and decided that there was the place for her to deposit her eggs and like the "little red hen," she does it.

WE'LL HELP YOU
PLAN YOUR HOME

These are the days when you are planning to build your new home. And with our service at your command, you'll be surprised how easy it will be to have that home just a little nicer than you planned, a little more convenient, a little more beautiful than you thought you might get for the amount of money you have to invest.

Our plans are varied. We will take your sketches and tell you from them how much it will cost to build. We will plan your home—giving you the benefit of our years of experience in building homes in this city.

The basis of our argument that we can not only save you money on your new home is the fact that we specialize in the building of homes just as your physician has spent years of study preparing to eliminate disease. And in its class home building is just as complicated a profession as medicine—it is the prevention of errors that really counts in the long run.

Do you know, we'll be glad to send one of our men to see you in your own home, at your convenience, and he can go over every detail with you?

A prominent minister, while condemning the immediate offenders in the scandals now being aired at Washington, tells the public some rather harsh truths. He is not greatly impressed with the superior virtues of citizens who are content to point a scornful finger at the culprits. It is the aggregate of virtuous citizens, he insists, who are really responsible.

"We are too busy making money to bother much about government. We are resentful of government interference, and we are content not to interfere in government ourselves, so that the high privilege and grave responsibility of guarding and guiding the lives of 100,000,000 people are left in the hands of professional politicians—as a rule, very ordinary people who are in politics only for gain.

"We blame failure of democracy upon the bosses and the party machines. We thus absolve ourselves. We forget that this is a democracy and that these men are in power as long as we permit them to remain. As long as we shall be content to seek absolution by pointing the finger of condemnation, we shall continue to be betrayed.

Here is a fine opportunity for every citizen to conduct a little inquiry of his own, summoning himself before the bar of his own conscience to see whether he has done his public duty.

THE DAWES PLAN

The report of the Dawes committee on German reparations was accepted before it is submitted. Everything known regarding the plan seems to recommend it, not to one interested party or another, but to all.

André Tardieu, an able French publicist, predicts that the plan will be accepted because "the English are tired of unemployment, the French of financial difficulties, the Germans of uniform bankruptcy and the Americans of European anarchy." That is a keen view of the situation. The minor allied creditors may be expected to tag along with France, if she accepts.

America may be expected to back her approval with a loan, but the impression grows that, if she does, in this case it will not be throwing good money after bad but an act comparable to buying fertilizer in order to raise a good crop from soil now unproductive. In other words, it should make possible the payment of money due from Germany and her creditors which we are now unable to collect, and should promote profitable trade with all Europe.

There are sure to be kicks against any immigration bill, especially one severely restricting the number of immigrants. The present law, admitting only three per cent of the representatives of various nationalities represented in our 1910 census, was enacted over the strenuous objection of racial groups already living here who thought they were improperly discriminated against. Similar objections are made now against the proposed two per cent rate as gauged by the 1890 census, which would admit only half as many and apportion them somewhat differently among the various races.

There is a new phase of protest, too. Some of the foreign countries, particularly Italy and Roumania, are kicking now, because the proposed plan would cut into their quotas severely. They seem to think the American immigration reformers are going out of the way to discriminate against them. The foreign protest will probably continue growing in volume.

That is all right. It is unprofitable to denounce such protests as "impudent," as one of our congressmen did the other day. In the place of the objecting nations, the United States might do what they are doing. They have a right to object.

Constable Aaron Peacock of Coalport brought Mike Loneski, of Becaria township to the county jail this morning charged with a heinous crime against his 14-year-old daughter.

Suits were entered in the Clearfield county courts this morning by Daniel Bauman against Rouben H. Robinson, Isaac H. Robinson and Andrew J. Peterson for recovery of coal land in Lawrence township under lease to the Robinson Coal Company. Also to recover $129,186 royalty alleged to be due and unpaid under the lease. The statement filed with the suit says the lease was made Aug. 16, 1920, at 15¢ per ton royalty and re-made June 30, 1922, at 10¢ per ton. A minimum royalty of $1,000 payable monthly was a condition of the lease.

work resumed again in August, 1922, and the unpaid royalty covers this period. It is also alleged that wheelage charges of 1/4 cent per ton are also unpaid. The lease was transferred to Andrew J. Peterson Jan. 1, 1924, is the allegation of the plaintiffs, who also offered checks for royalty on two occasions for less than the amount due, which were refused by the plaintiff, who also says he does not know nor never heard from Andrew J. Peterson in connection with the lease.

The attorneys representing the plaintiff are Sheek, Lahme, Stevens & Hadley, and Kramer & Kramer, of Clearfield.

Mrs. Mildred Davis, 34, 14½, last evening at her home on Nichols street in Clearfield. The evening was spent in playing games and dancing. Dainty refreshments were served at a late hour and the guests reported having spent a very pleasant evening, hoping Mildred will have another soon.

Thrifty folks read the Progress ads.

If they want to. On the other hand, the United States has a perfect right to turn down their objections, having no obligation to them whatever except that of courtesy. For America, like every other country, is the final judge of whom it shall admit to the privileges of residence and citizenship.

LOOK OUT, AND NOT IN—AND LEND A HAND

By FLORENCE DAVIES

They were chatting over sandwiches and chocolate in one of the city's smartest tea rooms—the slim, pale, gold-haired girl with a wedding ring on her hand, and her stout, jolly friend, head of a sales force in a bigger city 500 miles away.

"I used to come here to lunch or tea right often with my friends, before I was married," said Golden Locks wistfully. "But no—Well, Horace is queer about my friends, somehow. They don't any of them appeal to him. So I've dropped them little by little. I just don't go anywhere—He's too tired to go out at night."

"Oh, but isn't that a mistake?" queried the friend, who was one of that class sometimes perfectly styled "Ladies-in-Waiting." "Seems to me Horace is not 'queer' but downright selfish, if he wants you to give up all your old friends. If a girl does that and stays at home eternally she falls behind. So far behind that her husband, who is out among people, stirring about and mixing up with a thousand things every day, is going to lose sight of her altogether after awhile. Now isn't he?"

Golden locks gave a little shrug, but her eager, little pointed face was quite serious. "Horace used to tell me about his day sometimes, but now he never comes to talk. Doesn't tell me about his business or anyone he's met or anything. You don't know how good it seems to be out again with someone that really talks and listens to you." The business woman never expected conversation at home because her neat little flat was quite as empty when she unlocked it at night as when she left next morning. But she knew that if she had left some Horace or Henry slip a ring on her third finger of her left hand she would expect a easy exchange of the day's events either over the dinner table or later. She was fair minded; however, and not too ready with sympathy on principle. "I suppose we really want to forget all that when he comes home. We business women know how that goes," she observed cheerily. "The thing for you is to get interested in some of the really big things that women are doing. Do you know they have statistics now that show how many children are under sixteen because their little backs have bent over onion peels so many how do you? Fact. Work for a child labor law that will hold water—Get into a Peace Union Society and help make the world safe for your son when he comes. Study the social issues, problems. At the other end of the scale, get interested in the hungry children of the mines in the Southern part of your own State."

"Stores are well stocked with children's garments as a rule," said her friend, with a bit of mischief in her voice. "But there, you will have plenty more opportunities to take hold and help along something worthwhile. My point is that the day of the woman who has interests are confined inside four walls is over. If she has children she needs to look around her all the more, for they are not safe if other mothers' children are not. As for Horace he won't think less of you if you find a few worthwhile interests of your own. I prophesy you will find something to talk about that he can't help listening to if you follow my advice."

The store room in the J. and J. Smith block, facing Meadow street, at the east end of Fifth street, is in the hands of carpenters and is being overhauled and converted into a new store room. R. M. Wright will occupy it when everything is in ship shape, with a shoe store, combined with a lot of novelty goods. Mr. Wright has been in the mercantile trade in one way or another for many years, and there is no reason in the world why he cannot make good in this new venture in which he is about to set sail.

Comrade James Booth's restaurant has been overhauled by both carpenters and painters this week and is now a pleasant place in which to entertain many persons who have discovered that Jim's place furnishes up-to-date meals and luncheons. Jim's barber shop has also received ample notice from the hand of painter.

Triple Tie Now Exists in League Race

easy winner over the New Bethlehem High entry, 34-14, last evening at New Bethlehem. The game was interesting despite the final figures and was witnessed by a large crowd.

After jockeying for a rail position the local five moved into a 7-4 lead as the first period ended, although the going was rather unsteady and many shots at short range were missed. The second period the Red and Black team fought their stride, and after a real point-getting session led 19-6 at the half-way mark. The third period found the Red charges using an entirely different combination, yet the lead was lengthened and New Bethlehem trailed 28 to 10 at the end of the third period. Both teams started down the home stretch "a-flying," but Clearfield got out of 9 points and as the game ended 34-12.

Although winning easily, the Clearfield team used all substitutes available, while every possible combination was tried. Their defense was "loose," big traps as can easily be seen in the fact that New Bethlehem garnered but four field goals. The passing was up to standard, yet they had little real space in which to show fast passing. Shooting was fair, many shots of all types being missed. Trying out various combinations held the score down.

Bobby Wilson led the scoring, with seven double deckers, while Nick Brown ran him a close second with five two pointers. Mitch finished the list with two field goals for a total of 14 to 4 field goals. What the others lacked in point getting they made up in other work and all in all they played a championship game. The "Newbies" could not get to the Clearfield attack but showed a good defense, while Doverspike and Murray helped their team considerably.

Boys of Rafferty g. New Bethlehem

Field goals: New Bethlehem—Murray 2, Doverspike, Starnes; Clearfield—Wilson 7, Brown 5, Mitch 2. Foul goals: New Bethlehem, 5 out of 18; Clearfield, 6 out of 9.

Referee, "Red" Hall, Punxsy. Lock Haven's Old Maid Too Stout For Us. Clearfield High's feminine court representatives were again forced to defeat when Lock Haven Normal girls bested them 25-22 last evening on the C. H. S. floor.

The visitors led 13-0 at the first period, then Clearfield's apparent stage fright wore off and they outplayed and outscored the visitors from that point. But the 13 points lead was too much to overcome. Clearfield's forwards found it hard to locate the basket until Miss Maurey scored, then score after score was rung up. Clearfield's entire team played a bang-up game, every player acquitting himself well except in foul shooting, which proved their undoing.

The session will conclude with a banquet in the evening at 6 o'clock. State President Joseph M. Galloway and a retinue of the State officers of the order arrived in Clearfield this evening for the purpose of taking charge of tomorrow's ceremonies which will be interesting and well worth seeing. Judge Bell is the only jurist of Western Pennsylvania to be thus signally honored by this worthy organization.

To Our Subscribers

Last year we added thirty millions of dollars' worth of plant for the telephone service of Pennsylvania. We told you about this through the public press and by various other means. We want you to know our job and how we are doing it. In a public service such as this the public should have all the facts.

Many of our subscribers are asking the questions—Why all this rush? Why all these new buildings? Construction costs are high these days. Why this tremendous expansion of your switchboards and lines? Why not take it a little easier?

Fair questions! And they merit a four-square answer.

THE BELL TELEPHONE CO. OF PENNSYLVANIA
L. H. KINNARD, President

That's the extent of my conversation with Bennett, as I recall it." "I observe the speech of Norris was Jan 30," said Walsh.

"Did you have any talk between that and Jan. 31 with Bennett?"

"That's my recollection," replied Curtis.

"Do you remember any talk with Bennett touching the political effect of disclosures?"

"I do not."

"Did Bennett ever deliver a message from McLean?"

"He did not."

"That is all," said Walsh.

Curtis was excused, and Bennett was called.

"Do you care to make any further statement?" asked Walsh.

"Senator Curtis has apparently forgotten one conversation and probably two I had with him. I reiterate I had one conversation and probably two he doesn't remember."

"What he said today was absolutely correct as far as he relates our conversation," said Bennett.

Bennett said he had talked with Walsh himself about the attack on "McLean's family," which moved Walsh to reply.

"The committee would like to know about your talk with Senator Curtis," commanded Walsh.

"Curtis denies that he had any conversation with you which could lead to the 'principal' telegram," Walsh added.

"He has forgotten at least one or two conversations," Bennett replied.

"But Senator Curtis has told of all three conversations," Walsh said sharply.

"There were two conversations he hasn't referred to," said Bennett mysteriously.

that one requires of a funeral director, when he has been called, that it is logical that only the funeral director who has a broad background of experience, and the best and most modern of equipment, will be able to come fully up to those requirements.

A funeral director should be chosen with care. One should know how long he has been in business, what his reputation is and what sort of equipment he has. The time to decide is not in that tumultuous hour when he is needed. Now is the time for the decision.

Ear Corn Hog Fattening Device Proves Success

An ingenious method by which ear corn can be fed to hogs by means of a self-feeder has been tried out with success on one of our western farms and should prove valuable to some of our feeders.

The self-feeder consists of a long triangular-shaped hopper suspended with the apex down. In this is an opening the entire length below which is a wooden strip some two by three inches according to the size of ears. The hopper is suspended so that it swings on an axis that allows it to be rocked to and fro as the hogs root for the corn they see protruding from the aperture. This rocking motion feeds the corn out. It can be placed on the ground or the feeding platform below. As many sections can be installed as desired, the suggested length for each being eight feet, taking care of about fourteen medium-sized hogs.—F. L. Cooper, Agricultural Engineer, Colorado Agricultural College.

The Adults In Every Family Should Have Plenty of Milk In Their Diet

Most folks, especially those who give little or no attention to their diet, have come to think that milk is essentially a food for babies. This has come about thru the constant association of ideas. When you think of little baby, you naturally think of milk. But tests have been made whereby milk has been shown to be as essential in the diet of grown-ups as it is in the diet of the growing baby.

In the first place milk contains fats. These fats are necessary for the adults and in no other single form of food can you find the fats in chemical form which are so easily digestible as they are in milk.

The vitamins, of which the medical fraternity have been proving are the thing for many folks, are in milk in their two forms—soluble A and soluble B. These two different chemical ingredients in milk are so easily assimilated by your system and are in the milk in such perfect chemical harmony, that you at once get the building up process which these vitamins produce.

The fact that lime is more abundant in milk than in any of the common foods, assures your body of a plentiful supply of this very important mineral.

Then comes sugar. The sugar contained in milk is not the sugar of your table. It is not sweet and many folks who abhor sugar in its common form can get all the sugar that their systems require by drinking plenty of milk, and they get the chemical effects without the unpleasant, to many folks, taste of the ordinary cane or beet sugar.

Then, it follows that all adults should drink as much milk as they can possibly assimilate. Start drinking at least a quart of our milk during the day—at intervals if you prefer—but drink the quart and you'll soon see that you are feeling better and that your general condition of health is very much improved.

The Milk You Get Here Contains a Higher Percentage of All These Ingredients Than Much Ordinary Milk Which Is Sold. You Also Have the Protection of the Pasteurization Process Which Is Your Insurance Against Germs

LIVE STOCK NEWS

Big Mistakes Commonly Made in Feeding Stock

Following a questionnaire study of live stock feeding problems and how farmers are meeting them made by the United States Department of Agriculture during the summer, the department is receiving numerous comments on the subject. Among those recently made was one containing the experiences of a Kansas farmer who considered abrupt changes in feeding, poor combinations of feed, and insufficient water to be the principal mistakes commonly made in feeding. See live stock sold on the open market was to this farmer a means of concluding also that live stock of improved breeding made greater gains and produced more than common stock fed in the same way. In the experience of this farmer the improved live stock was 25 per cent more profitable from a feeding standpoint.

An eastern dairyman relates how he improved his dairy feeding methods by the better feeding of dry cows and by applying silage during summer months. Feeding according to production and condition has likewise been beneficial. This farmer, in discussing the relation of breeding to feeding, stated that his present herd bull and the application of line breeding have resulted in heifers about 20 per cent better than their dams.

Many other comments of which the foregoing is typical, direct attention to means of getting better results from feeds. A compilation of the material obtained by the department has been prepared and may be obtained by addressing the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture.

Club work that they have been able to purchase a moderate priced automobile and by this means attend high school, which is a considerable distance from their home.

These young stockmen, Webster and Dana Catledge, have been practicing the feeding and care of pigs under the direction of their county agricultural agent since 1919, when they secured a pure bred sire in partnership. This they grew into a prize-winning animal. In 1920, each bought a gilt, giving his personal note for the purchase price, and later they together invested in a young boar to replace their old one. From these purchases they have built up an excellent herd. They have shown their sows and litters at a number of county, county, and district fairs, and have sold many of the young pigs.

In 1922, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture, in addition to winning a scholarship to the junior short course at the State Agricultural college, they received over $250 cash returns from their stock and had on hand more than $600 worth of hogs.
